A couple facts...

- ◆ An estimated 4.6 million Americans have an intellectual or developmental disability.
- ◆ Just within Multnomah and Clackamas counties there are approximately 20 thousand people with IDD/DD.

The Arc provides advocacy, support and services to children and adults with intellectual and developmental disabilities and their families.

Programs we currently offer:

*Adult and family case coordination and support
Behavioral consultation
Advocacy and planning
Community recreational activities
Community inclusion specialist*

With the generous help of people like you, The Arc provides advocacy and service to improve the quality of life adults and children each year.

Programs of The Arc are funded by donations of used goods and vehicles and community contributions. If you would like to further assist people with developmental disabilities in your community, you can volunteer time and service, hire a person with a disability, make financial contributions and/or join as a member of The Arc.
